Bringing up the bobbin thread

Instructions

1. Hold needle thread (upper thread) loosely.

2. Tap the foot control to sew one stitch, or turn handwheel towards yourself until the thread take-up lever has returned to its highest position.

3. Pull the needle-thread end slightly taut to bring the bobbin thread (lower thread) up through the needle opening in the stitch plate.

4. Pull the needle- and bobbin threads slightly taut and place them under the presser foot and out to the left.

Note:
The bobbin thread must be brought up through the stitch plate for certain types of work. The length of thread is sufficient for most normal work if the lower thread cutter has been used.
