MADEIRA

Quality and Responsibility

We pursue economic goals, but also take environmental responsibility. Almost no other brands produce as many embroidery threads as MADEIRA. We know that the manufacturing and dyeing processes strain nature and the environment, but we do everything in our power to sustain the essential characteristics of the ecosystem.

We are aware of our responsibility to ensure the survival of the company, whilst maintaining the livelihoods for people and nature. Therefore, we are using the most advanced technology in the process and only use high quality raw materials. By using the best materials we ensure the good quality of our products at the same time. "Quality and Responsibility" – this is the maxim of our actions here at MADEIRA.

Confidence in Textiles

Sustainability and environment protection shape the way we develop, produce and distribute our threads. Only who uses first class raw materials and processes them carefully, is able to produce first class quality products. Our clear commitment to sustainable management is not just modern image-building. It is the defining culture of our nearly 100 years of history.

We produce threads for people who take pleasure in textile hobbies. They are creative, skilled crafters who spend much time conjuring our yarns into personally valuable works of art. Our customers are quality conscious and expect first class and high quality products in terms of processing characteristics, care, colour fastness and durability.

These expectations cannot be satisfied without using certain chemical substances. In addition to the functional properties our customers require therefore a reliable proof of the human ecological quality of our products. MADEIRA yarns are certified under the Oeko-Tex Standard 100. This label certifies that our products are free of pollutants and health risks. Our main products are Oeko-Tex certified with the highest category "Product Class 1". This means that the threads can be used safely even for baby clothing.

Raw Materials

The right choice of raw materials has a positive impact on the eco-balance of a manufacturer and paves the way for the quality of the final products. MADEIRA threads are made from raw material of the highest quality class. We put a special focus on the materials' origin and check the quality of the merchandise supplied in our own quality department. We mainly use re-growing raw materials like viscose (wood), cotton and silk for our embroidery threads. Our sewing thread consists of high-class polyester fibres which we exclusively buy from renowned suppliers.

Viscose

Our main product is the Rayon embroidery yarn made from 100% high-class viscose. Viscose is produced from cellulose which is mostly made from an especially fast growing kind of spruce. Viscose is an organic fibre and biodegradable. MADEIRA viscose threads are Oeko-Tex certified with the highest "product class 1".

Cotton

The machine embroidery thread Cotona as well as our Mouliné are made from 100% Egyptian, mercerised cotton. Cotton is a natural fibre that is produced from the seed fibres of the cotton plant. Cotton is kind to the skin and has a very low allergic potential. MADEIRA cotton threads are Oeko-Tex certified with the highest "product class 1".

Silk

Our hand embroidery thread Silk is made from 100% pure silk. Silk is the queen of the natural fibers. It is precious and noble. Silk is produced from the cocoons of the silkworm. MADEIRA Silk is Oeko-Tex certified with the highest "product class 1".

Wool

The popular embroidery thread Lana is made of 50% wool. Like silk, wool is not a herbal, but an animal, so called protein fibre. Mostly sheep deliver the wool. Wool is a natural product, biodegradable and re-growing. Of course Lana is certified with Oeko-Tex as well.

Dye House

No other production step has such an influence on the environmental performance of a thread manufacturer and the quality of its products like the dye house. Our dye house in Freiburg stands out through its strict process controls, intensive quality checks and strong investment in the latest dyeing technology.

Our boiler is not operating with fuel oil, but with natural gas. During the combustion of fossil fuels, pollutants are released into the air such as carbon dioxide (CO₂) and sulfur dioxide (SO₂). Natural gas supplies the most environmentally friendly values. The output of CO₂ per kWh is only 0,20 kg of CO₂ gas per kWh of energy used, whilst it is up to 0.28 kg of CO₂ per kWh if fuel oil is burnt. Further sulfur dioxide is created through the combustion of fuel oil, but not with natural gas.

Thanks to consistent improvements of the production process, we were able to reduce the energy consumption per kilogram of finished product by 40% from 2003 to 2007. For example the water vapor is not just released into the air but this heat is used to dry the threads after the dyeing process. The use of energy and water saving dyeing machines of the latest generation have led to the fact that our dye house is amongst the most modern and technologically advanced in Germany.

MADEIRA and Freiburg, the green city

MADEIRA's headquarters and production facilities are situated in Freiburg im Breisgau. Located at the foot of the Black Forest, Freiburg is one of the largest municipal forest owners in Germany, possessing 5.139 hectares of forest. In 1992 Freiburg was elected the German "environmental capital" for pioneering work in environmental protection and solar technology. Since then, numerous awards were added such as the Federal award for sustainability in urban development, the German solar award or the European local transport prize.

Today Freiburg is a model for a reconciliation of "soft" ecology and "tough" economy. Successful management and environmentally responsible action do not exclude each other, but are equal guiding lines of modern enterprises. The fact that MADEIRA today is still successfully producing at this location is the result of a progressive policy and proves that even in a globalized world of textiles, the German site is a real competitive advantage for manufacturers of high quality products.

This thread has been made using a special MADEIRA twist construction, designed to resist the higher level of friction metallic threads encounter and avoid splicing occurring, as this is a common problem amongst many metallic foil threads.

25% less waste, and 25% more thread
= 50% better value

Ready to hand...

with the MADEIRA practical packaging, to secure

- Tangle free high quality cotton
- No waste, every inch can be used
- No more loose ends
- An instant storage system
- Color number retained until all thread has been used
- Clean thread and colors that won't fade
- More floss and more stitching with 10 m packs

You'll love the MADEIRA exclusive spiral pack even before you use an inch of thread!

With old-fashioned skeined floss you start wasting floss from the moment you pull out your first strand. Once the paper band is off, old-fashioned floss soon becomes a tangled mess. Then while separating the strands, you can't tell which way the grain of the floss is going.

So you often thread it the wrong direction and end up pulling out stitches and ruining floss.

With the MADEIRA spiral pack, you always pull your floss out the right way. So you can thread it correctly and stitch the right way every time you pick up your embroidery project. Plus, the spiral pack keeps your floss clean, new and tangle-free until you use it, even in the bottom of the sewing basket. You waste 25% less and use more of the rest.

The easiest way to use your spiral packs.
Keep all your Floss organized while you save space, with the handy Thread Tidy.

Highlight:

Each pack includes a guide with a detailed description for each needle.

The lifetime of titanium needles is up to five times longer than standard needles thanks to the extremely hard surface, especially around the eye of the needle and at the point. Wash-Away water soluble basting thread helps you avoid the frustration of removing basting stitches because it disappears with water or steam from an iron or damp press. It is a time saver for all kinds of basting, including basting zippers, hems, gathers, pleats, set-in sleeves, positioning pockets, fitting and quilting and appliqué. Important: Wash-Away dissolves in water, but not in dry cleaning solution. Store in a dry place such as a zip-lock bag or plastic wrap. Do not handle with wet hands.

Halloween adds an element of fun and safety to costumes or trick-or-treat bags with this glow-in-the-dark thread. Charge 'Halloween' thread with natural or artificial light for a few seconds. A new technology makes this thread glow in the dark, time after time, and much longer than other glow-in-the-dark threads. Popular with joggers, baby and children's items and any other design to show off at night. Machine washable and dryable. Works with all embroidery designs.

9662 *

9663 *

Smocking is a special thread which reacts to heat. The thread shrinks drawing an iron over the fabric slowly, while the fabric does not, causing the fabric to pucker in a controlled way. The wrinkled effects are beautiful and limitless. No special needles are needed, and shrink embroidery can be sewn on any type of embroidery machine. A regular household iron is perfect for this purpose.

Monolon is a fine transparent nylon thread, simply perfect for a variety of applications including invisible sewing, machine appliqué and hemming. Excellent for invisible sewing on ribbon, lace or decorative threads. Use for applications requiring blind stitch and the transparent Monolon thread will blend into the fabric.
